Are you or someone you know considering a move in the future? If so, here's why hiring a Professional Organizer to help with the process is worth it.

There's nothing more exciting than moving to a new home, but, according to experts, it's one of the top three stressors in life next to starting a new job and getting a divorce. A recent survey conducted by North American Moving Services found that 64% surveyed said their most recent move was one of the most stressful things they've ever experienced. The 43% who did their last move on their own said they would never do it again. But 94% of those who hired professional help for their move said it was worth every penny, and they would move again.

We understand that the to-do list can be a mile long. Over the past 10 years, we have helped clients make this major life event less stressful. Moving doesn't have to be such a burden. We are here to help!

These are some of the questions we get from our clients about moving:

Q: Do you prepare a home for presale?
A: Definitely! We think decluttering your home should be the first step. Removing clutter also takes away visual distractions.

Q: What is the decluttering process?

A: We work with you to make decisions about what to keep, donate, shred, or toss. Of course, our goal is to donate as much as possible. This process of decluttering and downsizing before you pack will help save you time and money.

Q: Where do I start with packing?

A: We feel that you should always work one room at a time. This keeps you focused and in control. People have a tendency to be all over the place when they are packing, losing control and causing twice the amount of work. Our experience will help guide you through the process of evaluating and deciding on what is important to keep or not to keep. This key step will allow us to facilitate quick and efficient packing. We ensure that fragile items are secure and all boxes are labeled correctly for the move.

A new move can present the perfect opportunity to lighten your life significantly! It is a process of dealing with what we call "lifetime layers" especially for clients who have lived in their homes for 30+ years. It can feel very overwhelming! Uncluttered Spaces helps our clients not to feel stressed and overwhelmed by guiding them through the process of making those difficult decisions.

Q: Can you help me style my new living spaces with items from my old home?

A: Yes, we can. Moving into a new home with your old furniture and decor is a bit like trying on clothes from 10 years ago. You still love those pieces, and they may not fit quite the way they did before; but, with creativity and restyling, your old pieces can fit perfectly in your new spaces. Just like that classic black cashmere sweater that can be restyled year after year, always looking new and on trend.

Repurposing an old piece of furniture into a different room with new accessories can give new life and purpose to an old investment. We help recreate and reimagine spaces—from hanging artwork to placing furniture.

There are many health benefits from this process also. Having a new home and moving into an organized space can alleviate anxiety, help you sleep better, and cultivate a calmer, happier environment for you and your family. At Uncluttered Spaces, we know that letting go of things can be a hard process, but it can also make you feel lighter and less burdened by things. Having more time to enjoy experiences is priceless.

Uncluttered Spaces can help you with the process of moving into your new space and handle all the details to make you feel at home right away.
