

Celebrating Spring with artists Jennifer Hansen Rolli and Jean Childs Buzgo . . .

by Rhonda Garland
Owner, Silverman Gallery

The Silverman Gallery will be awash with joyful color throughout the spring of 2021. Two talented and sought after fine artists with many similarities and yet they each have a distinct creative voice and approach to their work.

Jennifer and Jean both grew up in the area, both studied commercial art and worked successfully in that field for many years. They each have a family with their youngest child, both daughters . . . still in high school.

Each works from her in-home studio, the most opportune place to dedicate time to paint and raise their families, something they both knew from childhood. Jean's great-grandmother loved to paint flowers from her garden.

She would set up a still life in the middle of her busy farm kitchen to fit in time to paint.

Jennifer's mother worked from their home in Yardley, teaching piano and voice lessons amidst a house full of five growing children. As in her own home today, there was always someone coming and going.

Rolli will start the year's 10th anniversary slate of exhibitions with her show, The Space Between. "Skies are for me that space between heaven and earth. We're all caught in this time, not knowing when and how it is going to end," she explains. New paintings are focused on her surroundings and poignant moments from everyday life.

Buzgo presents her latest collection of work, Vibrance. "My work has been evolving by experimenting with mixed media materials, concepts and subjects influenced by and adapting to the current pandemic, creating something positive and unique out of a challenging time." The viewer is invited to step into an amazing world of forever blooming flowers and places familiar.
