

Sending art out into the world, bringing joy to homes for many years to come!

by Rhonda Garland
Owner, Silverman Gallery

As much as I enjoy hanging the art here in the Silverman Gallery, I am even more thrilled to see the work placed in people's homes. There, the paintings will likely have more breathing room or might be added into a grouping of a client's existing collection.

Art becomes a focal point, setting the tone for a room. It can also be a transition piece along the traffic patterns in a house. Enjoy seeing some of our recent favorites!
