

Free Community Meal for Everyone at Thompson Memorial Presbyterian Church

We serve the meals in Thompson Memorial's Fellowship Hall after the contemporary worship service which takes place in the same location. (All are invited to join the service before getting something to eat!)

There is a different theme at each meal, and all the meals feature a main dish, with potluck sides, salads, and desserts. We also try to always provide gluten-free and vegan/vegetarian options (look for dishes labeled with GF and V), but please be aware that we cannot guarantee food is 100% "free from" in cases of severe allergies, as most of the dishes are made by volunteers in home kitchens.

Did you know ...

Thompson Memorial also provides take-out containers to fill and take home for those who prefer to stay masked in public or for anyone who'd like to deliver a meal to someone else.

As the legendary chef James Beard once quipped, "Food is our common ground, a universal experience." And at Thompson Memorial Presbyterian Church, we are providing that experience by hosting a free community meal that is open to everyone on Sunday, September 11 from 12:15 to 1:15 pm. This is yet another installment in Thompson Memorial's history of providing free meals on the second Sunday of each month to those in our church family and the community. The church is located at 1680 Aquetong Road in New Hope.
